

5 things you should know about testing your Kronos Workforce Management System

1. One size doesn't fit all

Kronos Workforce Management System Testing is a multi-faceted problem that demands keen core competencies. You need a team with proven Testing capabilities and the right WFM experience to test it all: Pay Rules, Accrual, Leave Management, Scheduling, Integrations and more.

2. You don't have to go it alone

Building an effective Test Case library can be a lengthy trial and error process. But what if you didn't need to create Test Cases from scratch? Or if you could benefit from how others are testing the same labor laws?

Do both when you gain access to TestAssure's Test Case Catalogue: a robust Catalogue of proven Test Cases leveraged by your industry peers running the same Kronos System you count on.

3. The "old way" no longer works

In-house teams don't have the time to execute the rigorous testing needed to ensure your System keeps up with constant change.

Outside resources have testing experience, but lack Kronos System knowledge and extensive Workforce Management Testing experience.

TestAssure is a Certified Kronos Testing Partner with deep Domain Kronos Systems knowledge and over 20 years Workforce Management testing experience. There will be no surprises when you work with us. We deliver what we say, when we say.

4. You need to think about today AND tomorrow

Kronos System in no time and instantly saving time and money.

And when the time comes, your Test Suites are fully transferable to Workforce Dimensions, enabling you to utilize TestAssure's Automated Testing capabilities, which will save you even more resources in the future!

5. It's all about who you know

The TestAssure Team tests & validates the world's most complex Workforce Management implementation. Production defects are significantly lowered, release frequency is up and the organization continues to get an extremely complicated payroll right.

If our process works for the world's largest retailer, you can be confident we will help your System keep pace.
